A number of highways are blocked due to snow drifts on the roadway. These highways are:

- N.D. Highway 1806 north of Hazen from the junction of N.D. Highway 200 west five miles.
- N.D. Highway 200A from north of Washburn to the junction of N.D. Highway 200.

A Travel Alert remains in effect for the western and central regions of North Dakota due to scattered icy and snow covered stretches as well as pillow drifts that may be encountered on the roadways. The Travel Alert includes all highways and surrounding areas in Dickinson, Williston, Bismarck, Jamestown and Minot. Motorists are cautioned to be alert to changing conditions.

No Travel Advisories - are issued when conditions warrant no travel but not a road closure. No Travel Advisories have the potential to change to a Road Closure if conditions deteriorate. No Travel Advisories are issued for public safety to encourage motorists not to venture out onto the roads. Motorists are urged to take No Travel Advisories seriously. Conditions change often during a storm event and motorists may become stranded if they are caught between destinations.

Travel Alerts - are issued to alert motorists that areas of challenging winter driving conditions may be encountered. Conditions are such that motorists can still travel; however, they should be aware that rapidly changing conditions may result in travel delays due to reduced speeds and visibility.
